Response to Amendment

1. Amendment filed on 3/03/2006 has been entered. Claims 2-11 are pending in the application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 9, 2, 3, 10, 11 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Larson et al (US 5,425,968) for the reasons of record set forth in paragraph 3 of the Office Action mailed on 9/06/2005 because Larson et al teach that a kinetic proportioner comprising cylinders (See column 5, lines 49-65) of various diameters for changing the stoichiometric ratio of the components involved (See column 7, lines 45-50) may be used instead of existing equipment which requires motors or source of power (See column 8, lines 16-21). In other words, Larson et al do teach that changing the stoichiometric ratio of the components involved can be carried out on existing equipment using motors or source of power. Clearly, the existing equipment with the use of motors or source of power would not require dismantling the apparatus for changing the stoichiometric ratio of the components involved because the motors allow delivering the components in any predetermined amount.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1762

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 2-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Larson et al in view of Vu (US 4,710,560).

Larson et al are applied here for the same reasons as above. Larson et al in view of Vu are applied here for the same reasons as set forth in paragraph 6 of the Office Action mailed on 9/06/2005. If it could be argued that Larson et al do not teach a new limitation “without dismantling the apparatus”, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used motors for delivering the components instead of a kinetic proportioner in Larson et al to provide the desired stoichiometric ratio of the components involved because the motors allow delivering the components in any predetermined amount.

In any case, it would be within ordinary engineering skill to deliver the components in Larson et al in the desired stoichiometric ratio without dismantling the apparatus.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicants' arguments filed 3/03/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive for the reasons discussed above.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO

Art Unit: 1762

MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
